3/22/02	R01-05-047	Order instituting rulemaking on the Commission's own motion to determine whether baseline allowances for residential usage of gas and electricity should be revised.
---------	------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Summary: On March 19, 2002, Sabrina Chaw, Senior Regulatory Representative of Regulatory Relations for Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), attended an all-party meeting with Cmmr. Wood in San Francisco. Also present were Phil Quadrini, Senior Rates Analyst, Rate Department, and Bill Stock, Chief, Regulatory Relations, for PG&E; and other attendees listed on the sign-in sheet attached to the notice. Chaw asked the Commission to implement baseline quantities changes concurrently with the corresponding rate changes so that a revenue shortfall would not occur for the utilities. Chaw emphasized that a balancing account is not sufficient to establish a pattern of regulatory certainty to the investment community. Chaw stated that PG&E could implement both the baseline quantities change and the corresponding rate changes by May 1, 2002. Chaw explained that if the Commission does not request an implementation date of May 1, 2002, PG&E asks that the Commission consider the timing of when PG&E will install its new customer information system. Quadrini added that if the Commission could not implement the rate changes simultaneously with the changes in the baseline quantities, it should do so as quickly as possible in order to avoid rate shock for customers.
